Dear Alumni and Friends

The start of another academic year brings excitement and the hope for a better future through a quality education. We in the Department of Public Administration eagerly embrace the task of preparing students to be the public servants that we all expect and deserve.

The 2017 incoming class looks to be one of the largest in our history at close to 50 students joining our ranks this fall. The Public Administration Student Association (PASA) continues to provide valuable assistance in enriching the educational experience of MPA students as does the ICMA student chapter. We will have a strong presence at the ICMA Conference in San Antonio in October. And MPA students continue to compete well for statewide and national awards. For example, a PADM student recently won both the Texas Women in Public Finance award and the Lynn Anderson Scholarship sponsored by the Government Finance Officers Association of Texas.

UNT’s tradition of excellence extends to MPA alumni. For instance, this year Bob Hart, city manager of Corinth, Texas, received the Lifetime Achievement Award from the Texas City Management Association. Many MPA alumni serve in significant positions in their communities, regions, and in state and national government. We applaud your dedicated efforts. Your outstanding support is key to the success of the MPA program, and your devotion to the public good serves as an inspiration for all of us.

Our faculty and staff are the best in the business. Dr. Bob Bland was recently nominated to receive an honorary membership in ICMA. Other faculty have received grants for their research. Dr. Lisa Dicke will serve one year as interim chair in the new department of social work. And Dr. Hee Soun Jang just returned from a sabbatical in South Korea. As announced at the Alumni Lunch in April, the minors in Nonprofit Management and Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) have been relocated to the department. This change brought two new faculty members – Dr. Leslie Roberts who leads the ADR program, and a recent hire, Dr. Laura Keyes, who coordinates the undergraduate nonprofit studies program. UNT’s new Provost, Dr. Jennifer Evans-Cowley, is also now a tenured member of the faculty.

A new academic year brings a fresh start as we welcome new and returning students. We look forward to working with them, challenging them, and inspiring them to achieve their full potential as public servants. These are difficult times, but education offers the hope that together we can build a better tomorrow for everyone.

Sincerely,

Abraham Benavides, Chair
On behalf of the faculty and staff in the

Debra Brooks Feazelle Internship Award
This endowed award was established by alumni and friends to honor Debbie Feazelle on her retirement from city government. Debbie’s career spanned 28 years of service as finance director of Euless, McKinney, and La Porte, as assistant and then deputy city manager of Lubbock, and most recently as city manager of La Porte, Texas. Debbie devoted her career to promoting professional excellence including as a board member and president of the Texas City Management Association and the Government Finance Officers Association of Texas, and as a board member of the national Government Finance Officers Association. Debbie Feazelle passed away on February 25, 2010, after a courageous battle with breast cancer.

Recipients of the Debra Brooks Feazelle Internship Award complete their 440-hour internship with a qualifying small city or nonprofit organization. The employer, if financially capable, is expected to provide a partial match to the award. Interns receive their award as hourly compensation during the duration of their employment. In the future, if growth in the endowment warrants, the award may also be used for the tuition and fees of interns while enrolled as a graduate student at UNT.

Charldean Newell Graduate Public Administration Scholarships
Dr. Charldean Newell was the quintessential scholar. Her career spanned 37 years of teaching in the MPA program where her expertise in local government management prepared multitudes of future city and county leaders. Dr. Newell retired from UNT in 2002, but she never lost her passion for city and county management. She continued teaching in the ICMA University, the association’s continuing education program, and mentored many aspiring managers. In 2002 the profession honored her with an honorary lifetime membership in ICMA. Dr. Newell passed away in November 2014. She left her estate to UNT to support scholarships for students. Per her wish, that endowed gift now supports competitively awarded scholarships for future generations of public administrators. We are pleased to announce the first cohort of Charldean Newell Graduate Scholars.

Hatton W. Sumners Scholarships in Public Administration

For over 40 years, the Hatton W. Sumners Foundation has provided generous funding for scholarships to MPA students. These scholarships provide a monthly stipend (currently $800 for 16 months) and most of the cost for tuition and fees (currently $18,200) for up to 10 MPA students at UNT. For scholars entering in the fall 2017 semester, the Sumners award totals $31,000 per student. Sumners Scholars mostly enter careers in local government and nonprofit management in Texas. Currently about 70 cities in Texas have an MPA graduate in an executive leadership role (city manager, assist/deputy CM). Nineteen of these leaders are Sumners Scholars; approximately 25 more are pursuing a career path to become CMs.
